JANUARY 1998 ISSUE

Notes from El Presidente

Happy New Year to all of you and wishing you much success in 1998! As we embark on a new adventure at HFTP I would like all of you to know we are looking forward to great dinners, speakers and functions this year.

First, I urge you all to attend our January meeting at the Four Seasons Hotel in Beverly Hills on January 22nd. Our speaker will reveal all, that is to say, discuss the recent controversial CBS special undercover investigations of Los Angeles Restaurants. I can't imagine that you have not discussed this issue at your properties, or at least wondered last time you dined out! I hope you will come enjoy this speaker who has agreed to appear as long as we promise not to heave rotten fruits at him!

IAHA Changes Name to HFTP

The International Association of Hospitality Accountants (IAHA) has changed its name to Hospitality Financial and Technology Professionals (HFTP). Association members voted overwhelmingly for the change, with 65 percent of voters choosing HFTP.

The new name emphasizes the important role financial activities continue to play in the job responsibilities of members, and it recognizes the expanding role members play in implementing technology in their organizations. Not only does the new name recognize the expanded responsibilities of HFTP members, it welcomes individuals involved in all aspects of hospitality

MEMBER SPOTLIGHT

Herb Hammann - Treasurer
L.A. Chapter of HFTP

Herb Hammann has been a crucial part of HFTP in many capacities. He is currently the Treasurer for our local chapter and has served as our Chapter President in the past. Herb has also served on the National Board of HFTP for the past four years and is currently on their Education Committee.

Herb has been controller at the Sheraton Industry Hills property since 1989. Prior to Sheraton, Herb also has experience with Hyatt, Hilton and Radisson companies.

If Herb is not at work in the hotel, you can probably find him at one of his favorite places to be: relaxing in the islands of Hawaii or watching a game at Dodger Stadium!

Herb, his wife Barbara, and their two children love to vacation in "paradise" and try to escape to Hawaii at least once a year. And in addition to his involvement with HFTP, Herb is also actively involved with the Dodger Booster Club. Made up of people who love (you guessed it!) the L.A. Dodgers, these club members sit together at the home games and even travel to away games several times a year. The booster club also helps out the community by performing charity works including holiday toy drives for needy children.

President's Message

In February we hope to have our meeting in the Pasadena area and plan a combined meeting with the Orange County Chapter in March at the Alicante Hyatt. In April we would like to meet at a hotel downtown.

Our Fall season was a great success and we have seen excellent increases in both monthly meeting attendance and HFTP-LA membership, which now stands at 115 members. Our current membership is the largest total membership in over five years.

I am sure most of you have already received your membership renewal notices for 1998, and I hope all of you renew by the end of February so your name will be listed in the annual membership directory and you can enjoy the fruits of your association all year long!

In the meantime, if any of you have a suggestion for a worthy charity for our association to be involved in, please do contact me or one of our board members. I believe it is high time for us to get more involved in our community, reach out and help make our association better than ever. I am sure one of you has a great idea, so let's hear it. (No, we will not adopt your neighbor's yappy dog.)

Also, we are looking for future board members and committee participation. This is a commitment which I am sure you will find rewarding through closer ties with others in our chapter as well as a rewarding experience for those who have a desire to contribute a bit of time and talent to a great organization. Remember, HFTP is only as good as you make it!

So with this I shall close and thank you for your support. See you at the next meeting!

Eden Slegr

IAHA Name Change

finance and technology.

The impetus for the name changes came from a survey of members, conducted by an independent marketing firm. The results clearly indicated that the IAHA name did not reflect the true responsibilities of the membership - less than 10 percent had the words "accounting" or "accountant" in their titles. The survey also showed that members had increasing responsibility for financial planning, budgeting and forecasting, and technology management.

The possibility of a name change originated during the IAHA Board of Directors strategic planning session at its 1996 annual convention. The survey was conducted in late spring, and based on the results and the recommendations of HFTP's marketing firm, Marketing General, Inc., the name change was first announced at the Hospitality Industry Technology Exposition and Conference (HITEC) which is produced by HFTP. Based on the positive response at HITEC, the marketing firm moved forward with specific recommendations for a new name. A vote of the membership was conducted following the association's 1997 annual convention in September, and voting concluded on October 31. The name change officially took place on November 3, 1997.

historically overlooked in L.A. news.

In 1997, Adam Symson's investigations included a story that exposed corruption in the criminal justice system for drunk drivers and the well-known look into the L.A. County Health Department's restaurant inspection system as well.

Mr. Symson started in broadcast journalism at KGIL Newstalk 1260 as a producer for current affairs programming. After that, Adam worked at KCAL 9 as an assignment editor and a researcher for the investigative unit. Next came a position as a field producer at NBC 4 here in Los Angeles before taking his current position at CBS 2 News.
